

Applied Bachelor of Science Degree
Three-Year (90 Credits)

Criminal Justice

Prepare for a career in law enforcement with an Applied B.S. in Criminal Justice from Rivier

Why choose Rivier's Applied Criminal Justice degree?

Rivier's Applied B.S. in Criminal Justice is a three-year, 90-credit degree program designed to give you the knowledge and practical skills needed for careers in law enforcement, corrections, security, and related fields. Maximize your return on investment at Rivier when you save a full year of tuition and fees, and related expenses, while gaining an added year of earning income following graduation.

An applied bachelor's degree is designed for those eager to enter the professional workforce quickly and to pursue an early career pathway. The 90-credit format streamlines the general education requirements, enabling students to complete the applied degree in three years of full-time undergraduate study.

Get Ready for the World

As a Criminal Justice major, you will experience our workforce-focused model, inclusive of experiential learning and problem-solving opportunities. You will intern at a police department, correctional facility, victim-support agency, child advocacy organization, or another agency involved in the justice field, gaining the skills and experience to build your resume and launch your career in law enforcement.

Some roles with victim-support agencies and child advocacy organizations may require a 120-credit bachelor's degree.*

Enter the Workforce Faster

Criminal Justice graduates will be workforce-ready and well-positioned to succeed in a competitive job market with the training needed for roles across municipal, county, and state agencies. Career paths include law enforcement, corrections, court administration, bailiff positions, and working with victims of crime and juveniles.

The program's applied structure equips you with the professional readiness employers seek, allowing you to become a candidate of choice as you begin your career.

Earn your master's in just one additional year

Earn both your bachelor's and master's degrees in just four years through Rivier's 3+1 programs. With a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in four years, you will be prepared for early career advancement and long-term professional success.
