The power of words

Why Study English at Rivier?

Our B.A. in English degree develops your critical analysis skills and clarity of expression, preparing you for a wide range of careers.

Build Your Knowledge Base

Rivier's English majors gain a solid foundation in literature, critical thinking, and writing in its many forms. Major courses provide you with an in-depth study of English and American literature. Elective courses allow you to pursue a minor of your choice and to customize your education to your personal and professional career interests.

Gain Real-World Experience

In addition to real-world course assignments, English students complete an internship during senior year that helps them build their practical skills, résumé, and professional network. Internship options include publishing/editorial assistant positions, and more. Study abroad, student clubs, and co-curricular events provide learning and leadership activities outside of the classroom.

Begin Your Career

English major graduates may pursue careers in:

- Advertising and marketing
- Journalism and publishing
- Copy editing
- Teaching
- Public relations and speech writing

Advanced degrees

Graduates are also well prepared to pursue master's degrees in education, publishing, communications, law, business, library science, and other fields.
